

Dataset:

355 patents awarded since 1985 by the US Patent Office in which some actual or potential application to consumable crops or food appeared in the claims, and a genetic engineering process was involved. 250 matched patent applications to the European Patent Office.